COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course examines the notion of community within cultural heritage institutions and the larger framework of cultural informatics. Particular emphasis is placed on social media as a tool for communication, engagement, and action. Topics include communities and digital commons, user studies, diverse populations, media studies, digital identity, social networks, information ecologies, social media adoption and use, community building, social advocacy and activism, and technology in the service of democracy.

COURSE GOALS + LEARNING OBJECTIVES

The goals of this course are to:

- explore foundational concepts of community, media, and social action
- examine a wide rage of theories and case studies in community building and community informatics
- survey tools and techniques for managing social media campaigns
- discuss possibilities and limitations of social media in cultural heritage environments

By the end of this course, students will be able to:

- use social media tools effectively and with purpose
- develop and evaluate plans for community building and engagement in cultural heritage institutions
- critically evaluate discussions of social media and community in the popular and academic press

REQUIRED TEXTS

  ISBN 9780838910672
- Additional readings [available on Learning Management System via my.pratt.edu]

COURSE WEBSITE

All students enrolled in the course have access to course materials on Pratt’s Learning Management System (a Moodle installation) available at my.pratt.edu. Please make sure you know how to access LMS and use Moodle. Also, please note that LMS facilitates communication using Pratt e-mail only. If you do not use your Pratt account, please use webmail to forward your Pratt e-mail to an account that you do use.
COURSE FORMAT
This course is a seminar. Each student is required to read the articles assigned on a weekly basis in advance of the session for which they are assigned. Each class will be devoted to discussion of the required readings for that week, as well as student work pertaining to those readings. Students will bring their own ideas, experience, and interpretations to class and will learn from contributing and hearing others.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS + ASSIGNMENTS
Your grade in the course will be based on the following:

- Participation: 10%
- Twitter discussion: 30%
- Case study: 60%

Participation (10%)
Students are expected to complete each reading prior to class and come prepared for thoughtful discussion.

Twitter discussion (30%)
Throughout the course, students are expected to participate in an ongoing Twitter discussion using the #LIScbe hashtag. This is a public discussion of issues related to the course and may include course readings as well as outside articles, resources, and issues. At minimum, students must follow the discussion throughout the course and tweet at least three times per week, some of which discuss the readings for the upcoming session (e.g., asking a critical question, applying the reading to issues in the LIS professions, and/or replying substantively to another student’s tweet about the readings).

Case study (40% final report, 20% weekly deliverables)
Students will complete a case study of a cultural heritage institution of their choice, with special emphasis on social media. The case study should describe current and potential communities for the institution, review existing plans/examples of communication and engagement, and present original research with related recommendations. The case study should be presented in the form of an organizational report, approximately 20 single-spaced pages in length including images, plus appendices for research instruments and data (where appropriate). The case study will be drafted in stages (due each Sunday night), with a complete draft due by Wednesday, June 12 at noon for discussion during the final class and a revised version due on or before June 20.

Week 1 — Organization and background (approx. 3–4 pages)
Choose an organization (broadly construed) based in NYC to research. Detail its history, mission, and partner and peer/competitor organizations. Describe its online footprint and note any opportunities for community building and engagement apparent in your initial research.

Week 2 — Research plan/methodology (approx. 1–2 pages, plus instruments)
Describe a coherent plan for researching communities related to your organization. Be able to justify your methodological choices. Include any instruments you intend to use.

Week 3 — Analysis and interpretation (approx. 3–4 pages)
Summarize and interpret your research findings. What else do you need to research? Based on your current findings, how well does the organization meet community needs, including information and outreach needs? Are there clear opportunities for improving outreach?

Week 4 — Social media plan (approx. 5–7 pages)
Present a coherent, integrated social media plan for the organization, including platforms, examples of social media posts/campaigns (mockups if possible), and workflows. How will the organization benefit from specific parts of this plan? What institutional changes would help the community?

Additional parts of the report not included with weekly deliverables:
- Examples of engagements using social media
- Recommendations for offline community building and engagement (incl. institutional changes)
- Executive summary and revisions to all parts above based

Students may work individually or in groups; if in groups, each member must send an email to csula@pratt.edu (and copied to all other group members) describing their individual contributions to the case study.
GRADING
All graded assignments are due on the date indicated. All assignments will be graded on a rubric basis, with the criteria circulated in advance. Final grades will be awarded as follows:
  A  sustained level of superior performance demonstrated in all areas of course requirements
  B  consistent level of performance that is above average in a majority of the course requirements
  C  performance that is generally average and course requirements are achieved
  D  below average performance and achievement of the course requirements
  F  accomplishment of the course requirements is not sufficient to receive a passing grade

Late work will not be accepted without prior approval by the professor.

E-PORTFOLIO
Students entering the MSLIS degree program in fall 2012 are required to complete an eportfolio that is approved by their advisor before graduation. The eportfolio provides students with an opportunity to showcase their best work from SILS courses and an opportunity to demonstrate they have met the learning objectives of a MSLIS degree. Work completed for this course may be included in the eportfolio, esp. work satisfying bolded areas below. Students must demonstrate that their work jointly fulfills the following learning outcomes:

1. Students carry-out and apply research
2. Students demonstrate excellent communication skills and create and convey content
3. Students use information technology and digital tools effectively
4. Students apply concepts related to use and users of information and user needs and perspectives
5. Students perform within the framework of professional practice

Detailed information on the learning outcomes, requirements and how to create your eportfolio is available from: http://www.pratt.edu/academics/information_and_library_sciences/degree_programs/sils_eportfolio

POLICIES

Academic Integrity & Institute-Wide Policies
Students are expected to adhere to the Academic Integrity Code and Judicial Process of the Pratt Institute (http://www.prattsenate.org/learning/02-academic.htm). All infractions will be reported, and I am disposed to fail all violators for the entire course. Students must adhere to the Pratt Community Standards listed in the current Student Handbook (http://www.pratt.edu/uploads/Online_Student_HandbookFINAL.pdf).

Disabilities
Students who require special accommodations for disabilities must obtain clearance from the Office of Disability Services at the beginning of the semester. For further information, contact the Coordinator of Disability Services in the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs at 718.636.3711.

Incompletes
The professor is generally allergic to incompletes. However, students with health conditions or no-fault hardships are encouraged to discuss options for course completion with the professor.

Participation in Faculty Research
Students taking this class may be asked to participate in faculty-sponsored research; all contributions will be appropriately credited.

Revisions to the Syllabus
While this syllabus provides a reliable framework for the course, including readings and assignments, it is subject to change pending notice in class and on the course website.
COURSE SCHEDULE

This is a tentative outline of topics, readings, and assignments. On occasion, I may add, delete, or substitute topics or readings. Changes will be announced in class and posted to LMS; no printed updates will be given.
